User Guide

The following pages are designed to provide a user-friendly reference to the programs of study offered within the Province of Newfoundland and Labrador, including certificate, diploma and degree programs available through the province's post-secondary institutions.

In using this document you will note that information has been organized within major headings by Occupational Groupings. Programs of study are then listed according to the occupational categories to which they belong.

Example 1:	Major Heading:	Trades Construction & Repair
	Program of Study:	Carpentry

Example 2:	Major Heading:	Creative Arts, Culture & Communications
	Program of Study:	Music

An Index has been provided at the end of this publication, which lists all programs of study alphabetically. Each program has been referenced to a page containing information directly related to that program. Certain terms will refer to the other occupational title, for example-Physician-See Medicine.

Start Dates

Where possible, start dates have been identified. Some programs are offered on a continuous entry basis. All information should be verified by contacting the post-secondary institution directly. Addresses and telephone numbers are listed in the back of this document. Start dates are not included for programs at Memorial University of Newfoundland, (MUN). MUN operates on a four-semester basis (i.e., Fall, Winter, Spring and Summer) and individuals should check with the faculty or post-secondary institution for the start dates of specific programs.

Pending Enrollment

Not all programs listed are offered on a regular basis. Some post-secondary institutions offer courses if they have sufficient enrollment. Individuals are advised to contact the post-secondary institution directly for further details.

Pending Government Approval

Courses have been marked "pending government approval" as final approval had not been received from the Department of Education at time of printing. Individuals are advised to contact the particular post-secondary institution directly to verify if the course has been approved.

Contract Training

Where applicable, programs have been marked "contract training." This refers to programs funded through some form of government or private sector sponsorship. These programs are often outside the regular offerings of the institution in which they are delivered and additional enrollment in these programs may or may not be possible. Contact the appropriate post-secondary institution for more details.

Memorial University Programs

Memorial University of Newfoundland, including the Marine Institute and the affiliated Queen's College Faculty of Theology, have autonomy over their academic programs. The information about Memorial University programs contained in this publication, including those of the Marine Institute and the affiliated Queen's College, is only a guide and readers are advised to consult the Registrar's Office, Memorial University, the latest University calendar, and Queen's College, for the latest official information.

Sources of Information

For information on how to use the Provincial Post-Secondary Offerings List (PPSOL) or for information on Career Planning, Education and Training, Job Search and Employment Programs/Services contact the Labour Market and Career Information (LMCI) Hotline at 1-800-563-6600 and 1-866-729-4685 (TTY). Staff are available to assist individuals in making informed educational, career and employment decisions.

An online searchable copy of the PPSOL database can be found on the website LMIworks, located at: <http://www.lmiworks.nl.ca/ppsol/>. Where possible, this search function contains direct links to the post-secondary institutions offering each program.

The Department of Advanced Educations and Skills has a network of Career Work Centres located throughout the province where trained staff offer information on a variety of topics including career planning, labour market information, employment opportunities, education and training requirements, and HR supports for employers. Information on the services provided at these centres and their respective locations can be found at <http://www.lmiworks.nl.ca/CareerWorkCentres/>. For more information on the Department of Advanced Educations and Skills visit <http://www.hrle.gov.nl.ca/hrle/>.

Overview: Post-Secondary Institutions

Newfoundland and Labrador's post-secondary institutions include:

- Memorial University of Newfoundland;
- College of the North Atlantic; and,
- numerous private training institutions

Throughout Newfoundland and Labrador there are post-secondary training opportunities that relate to many occupational areas. Detailed contact information for registered provincial post-secondary institutions throughout Newfoundland and Labrador is available at the back of this directory.

Training in specialized areas can also be obtained through groups, such as:

- Canadian Armed Forces
- Canadian Coast Guard
- Royal Newfoundland Constabulary
- Royal Canadian Mounted Police

The Apprenticeship Training Program also offers individuals an opportunity to pursue careers in a variety of trades. (For more information on Apprenticeship Training please refer to page 4).

In addition to traditional methods of training, some programs and courses are delivered through distance education. (For information on distance education, please refer to page 93).

University

Memorial University of Newfoundland

Memorial University of Newfoundland (MUN), Atlantic Canada's largest university is composed of; the St. John's Campus and Marine Institute located in St. John's; the Grenfell Campus located in Corner Brook and a residential campus in Harlow, England. Memorial also offers a French Language training program, "Programme Frecker" on the island of St. Pierre. The University has six faculties and six post-secondary institutions offering degrees at various levels:

Faculties:

- Arts
- Business Administration
- Education
- Engineering & Applied Science
- Medicine
- Science

Post-secondary institutions:

- Nursing
- Graduate Studies
- Music
- Pharmacy
- Human Kinetics & Recreation
- Social Work

In addition, Queen's College, an affiliated College of Memorial University is responsible for Theology programs.

The Distance Education and Learning Technologies at Memorial University offers:

- Distance Education
- Student Services and Delivery
- Course Development
- Instructional Development Office

The Division of Lifelong Learning offers:

- Certificate Programs
- Diploma in Information and Communications Technology
- Personal Enrichment and Career Enhancement Courses

Marine Institute of Memorial University of Newfoundland

The Marine Institute of Memorial University of Newfoundland provides training in a wide range of Fisheries, Marine Technology and Survival areas. This includes programs at the certificate, diploma, degree and advanced diploma levels and also training related to fish harvesting and Transport Canada certificates.

Grenfell Campus (MUN)

Grenfell Campus offers the following degree programs:

- Bachelor of Arts in Various Disciplines;
- Bachelor of Science in Various Disciplines;
- Bachelor of Business Administration;
- Bachelor of Education;
- Bachelor of Fine Arts;
- Bachelor of Resource Management;
- Bachelor of Nursing (Collaborative); located at Western Regional School of Nursing

In the case of other degree programs offered by Memorial University of Newfoundland, students may complete various years towards these degrees at Grenfell Campus. More information related to programs of study may be obtained directly from this institution.

Public College

College of the North Atlantic

The College of the North Atlantic is the public college for Newfoundland and Labrador. With headquarters located in Stephenville, the College operates 17 campuses throughout the province, offering a variety of programs listed under the following areas of study:

- Academics; Adult Basic Education (ABE); Comprehensive Arts and Science Transfer: College-University; Comprehensive Arts and Science College Transition; and English as a Second Language (ESL);
- Applied Arts;
- Business Studies;
- Engineering Technology;
- Health Sciences;
- Industrial Trades;
- Information Technology;
- Tourism and Natural Resources

Comprehensive Arts and Science (CAS) Transfer: College - University Program (1 year)

The College/University Transfer Year has been developed through an agreement with Memorial University of Newfoundland which gives credit for specific college courses. These introductory courses are designed for students intending to transfer to university after completion of 10 or more credits at the College of the North Atlantic. It provides an opportunity for students to gain university course credit at locations close to their home communities.

Comprehensive Arts and Science (CAS) College Transition Certificate Program (1 year)

The College Transition Certificate program is designed for High School and Adult Basic Education graduates who would like to improve their general employability skills or who are lacking either the academic courses or the required grades to meet the admission requirements of the College program they would like to enter. The program also provides a valuable refresher for High School and Adult Basic Education graduates who have been away from education, training and/or the workforce for some time and who are lacking confidence in their skills. For further information on the program, please see the College of the North Atlantic calendar.

Private Training Institutions

In addition to the public educational facilities, there are a number of private training institutions in Newfoundland and Labrador which offer certificate and diploma programs for a wide range of occupations. Many of the private post-secondary institutions also provide continuing education opportunities and it is recommended that individuals contact the local campus for additional information. (For a more detailed listing of private colleges please refer to page 80).

All private training institutions offering a course consisting of fifty or more instructional hours are required to be registered by the Department of Education to ensure that they are complying with the “Private Training Institutions Act”. It is recommended that prospective students confirm a ‘Certificate of Registration’ has been issued by the Department of Education prior to entering into any enrolment agreement or contract. Additional information related to private training institutions can be found at the Department of Education’s website at:

<http://www.ed.gov.nl.ca/edu/postsecondary/private.html>.

Schools of Nursing

The Collaborative Nursing Program, which was implemented in September 1996, replaced all pre-existing nursing programs. This four-year program leading to a Bachelor of Nursing degree is available at the following institutions:

- Centre for Nursing Studies (St. John’s)
- Memorial University of Newfoundland School of Nursing (St. John’s)
- Sir Wilfred Grenfell College through Western Regional School of Nursing (Corner Brook)

Apprenticeship Training

Apprenticeship is a proven training system that combines on-the-job experiential learning with technical training to produce a qualified and certified journeyman. Upon completion of the specified training period, having mastered the relevant skills and successfully passing a summative examination, apprentices receive a Certificate of Qualification. Apprenticeship registration is initiated when an individual signs a Memorandum of Understanding with an employer and continues until such time as the apprentice has completed all of the required technical training and has received the required industry experiences necessary to attempt the relevant Interprovincial or Provincial certification examination. Upon registration, an apprentice may undergo a Prior Learning Assessment and Recognition process to determine if credit may be awarded for previously completed courses or work experience.

For a list of designated apprenticeship occupations in Newfoundland and Labrador or for more information on the Apprenticeship Program, access the website for the Department of Education at: <http://www.ed.gov.nl.ca/app/general.html>.

Contact information for the Department of Education, Advanced Studies Branch - Institutional and Industrial Education Division is located at: <http://www.ed.gov.nl.ca/edu/department/contact.html>.

Distance Education

(includes correspondence and web-based learning)

Distance education is an option for learners who may be employed full-time, unable to leave their home to attend classes, or unable to access an educational institution and/or specific course in their community. Availing of distance education can help one to begin, continue or supplement education or training.

The following is a listing of post-secondary institutions in Newfoundland and Labrador that deliver distance education programs/courses. For more information on specific course offerings, contact each school individually.

Note: The following contact information was current when the Provincial Post-Secondary Offerings List (PPSOL) 2011-12 went to press.
